ALL-AMERICAN MEALS ARE SERVED UP AT BUCKHEAD'S WHITE HOUSE RESTAURANT

Old Glory flies daily near the entrance of the White House Restaurant. It's fitting for the iconic Buckhead diner that both shares a name with the U.S. president's residence and is a shining symbol of the American dream come true.

"My grandfather came here from Greece in 1966 with $50 in his pocket, and he created this business that has endured for 48 years," said Dylan Galaktiadis, manager and the third of four generations who have worked at the restaurant.

Demos and Eva Galaktiadis became owners of their own American business, the White House Restaurant, in 1971. The Walton Gas customer soon became the go-to place for breakfast in the neighborhood. Now, breakfast menu items named the Presidential Breakfast and the White House Breakfast leave little doubt about the owners' American pride.

The Galaktiadis family believes being a great neighborhood restaurant is as much about the people as good food. Nine White House employees have a combined tenure of more than 150 years.

"People come from all over to see and interact with these familiar faces," Dylan said.

That includes Demos and Eva. Though semi-retired, they're frequently spotted chatting up regulars and welcoming tourists for a "real diner experience."

"There's nothing like us in Buckhead," Dylan said. "While others have reinvented themselves over the years, we've stayed true to who we are. We're still the real, original thing."

Griller Thriller

Celebrating National Grilling Month is more fun this year thanks to the arrival of the first smart grill.

Weber's Genesis II EX-335 is revolutionizing the task of "manning the grill." Its automated cooking capabilities allow more time for socializing and less time babysitting burgers — a freedom most grillers will gladly celebrate.

The grill's integrated smart tech package features:

- Wi-Fi and Bluetooth enabled. A free IOS/Android app keeps you connected to your grill via smartphone no matter where you are.
- Real-time food monitoring. Digital, real-time food temperature monitoring lets you know what's happening inside your grill without opening the lid or going to check in person.
- Readiness notifications. Select desired food monitoring and receive an alert once it has reached the perfect temperature to serve. The grill also sends alerts when food needs to be flipped, rest period and when it's ready to serve.
- Grilling assistance. The app includes step-by-step instructions for grilling foods plus recipes.

The EX-335 is available in home improvement and hardware stores throughout Georgia.
